The brand for fish

FEMEG – FISH WITH ORIGIN

We are passionate to find new international fish trends and to produce classic fish products as well as products for the modern cuisine.

Since day one FEMEG was innovative and brought new products to your freezer.

Variety instead of mass products is our credo.

Innovation, quality, respectful fish processing and sustainability as well traceability and an elementary sense of responsibility for humans as well as for nature are cornerstones of our company.

We buy our fish only from first class partners in premium quality and assure that with laboratories as well as our own employees at the origin countries.

FEMEG was founded in 1990 in Bargteheide, a small town near Hamburg and developed to one of the leading brands for frozen fish and seafood.

In 2009 we finished the build of our new factory in Rehna in Mecklenburg.

We produce high class products from filets to convenience from prime raw materials here every day.

OUR FAMILY MANAGED COMPANY STANDS FOR UNCOMPROMISING QUALITY FOR OVER 27 YEARS, NOW.

Responsibility for the future

FEMEG SUPPORTS THE MSC INITIATIVE - THE MARINE STEWARDSHIP COUNCIL

The Marine Stewardship Council (MSC) was founded together with the WWF as an independent institution to sustainably protect the precious fish population of the world's oceans. Its goal is to preserve the ecosystem of the sea for future generations with fair and environmentally-compatible fishing.

To protect seas and oceans

FEMEG already offers a wide range of MSC certified products – and we work hard to expand that offer in cooperation with certified fisheries.

A PLUS FOR MANKIND, ANIMAL, ENVIROMENT

Humans, animals and the environment are increasingly becoming the focus of society. To meet this demand Femeg provides interested consumers and the dedicated trade with an assortment which the customer can easily recognize by the green color of the typical femeg arc. This selection stands for products with a special Plus in the field of sustainable fishing, aquaculture and processing.

The increase in sustainability can, for example, be organic fish farming. Femeg offers a seawater salmon trout as an exclusive organic product of regional origin from Denmark.

Since many species of fish originate from sustainable wildlife, bio-components can also be used while processing MSC-certified fish with ingredients from organic farming. So with Femeg fish sticks or MSC-rock sole fillets in organic bread crumbs.

Not only ecology but also better conditons for workers and animals as well as special services for the environment are amis of Femeg. An example for this is the Naturland-Nile perch project. The „green line“ of Femeg stands not exclusively for organic standards but for the whole field sustainable, future-oriented fish products.

Responsibility for the future

ASC – THE AQUACULTURE STEWARDSHIP COUNCIL

Fish and seafood belong to the most important staple foods. However fish stocks are under pressure. The aquaculture of fish/seafood is one way to avoid overfishing. To ensure careful and sustainable aquaculture practices, we have decided to follow and use the strict rules of the Aquaculture Stewardship Council.

For sustainable aquaculture

The international and independent organization developed standards for sustainable aquaculture and is by means of certification systems recognizable for the end consumer. FEMEG is an official supporter and partner of the first hour for the development and introduction of the ASC standards for Pangasius, therefore FEMEG was one of the first companies offering ASC certified products.
